AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

Who Shall the Farmers Support for Governor?

Editor Journal of Agriculture.

I have been a reader of the Journal of Agriculture for more than ten years. I learned to respect your judgment in matters of which you profess to know something, and especially do I honor your integrity and fearlessness of utterance. As the editor of a representative agricultural paper I wish to ask you, in a private way, concerning a matter that is of interest to me and all other farmers, as well as good citizens generally. The sentiment of the people of this part of Missouri is largely in favor of D. R. Francis for governor. Recently, however, John M.
Glover and certain papers have made charges against Mr. Francis, which he emphatically denies. But what I am most desirous of knowing is, whether Mr. Francis is an option dealer in grain as is charged? What do St. Louis people think of his administration as mayor?

Now as to Hon. Mr. Glover. His action in leaving his place in congress, neglecting his duties here, is enough to defeat him as far as I have any influence in that direction.

Mr. Morehouse's possible ineligibility and his pardoning Emmett King are objections to him. His inconsistency with regard to the letter of the law in his own case and the spirit of the law in connection with the $8,000 agricultural appropriation, indicates a principle that should not be overlooked.

Mr. Francis' friends claim that there are indications of a combination between Glover and Morehouse, backed by railroad influences. Nothing of this kind suits us farmers.

It is claimed of Mayor Francis that the saloon element, the ward politicians and the railroad influence, through John O'Day, are working for his defeat, which, if true, is a good sign.

We voters know no candidates personally. We know of them only by hearsay. The editors of the county press profess to know them. We do not know the editors any better than we do the candidates. If all agree that a man is fit or unfit for office, we can do no more than accept it. But when the editors disagree, we are at sea. Hence, as before stated, my confidence in your integrity and love of justice is my reason for appealing to you for information. I have no ax to grind either for myself or friends. I simply wish to know how to vote for the best interests of our grand and great state. I write this late at night after laboring 12 or 14 hours. You will oblige by answering soon, as our county (Audrain) primary is the 6th of June. FARMER.

NOTE.—The letter published above is from one of the best known farmers in Audrain county, Mo., and although it was intended as a private communication, we embrace the opportunity to answer him and a large number of other farmers who have asked similar questions on the subject. It is presumed that Missouri will be carried by the democratic party this year, as it has been for many years past. If this is so, the farmer who votes with the democratic party ought to exert his influence in his party to place in the gubernatorial chair the best man who is a candidate before the people.

We have known David R. Francis since he was a boy—he and the writer having come to St. Louis about the same time. Although not coming into personal contact with him daily, we have known his history, morally, financially and in a commercial and political way for years, and we unhesitatingly say it is without a blemish. David R. Francis is a bright, well-balanced, brave, energetic, self-made man and deserves all the honors that can be bestowed upon him. He is honest, and we believe, incorruptible and thoroughly capable, and we have no hesitancy in saying that he is by far the best man, from the farmer's standpoint, of those who are now standing for gubernatorial honors in the democratic party.

If John O'Day is against Francis, as our correspondent states, this would be reason enough for the writer to vote for him and urgently advise all the friends of the farmers to do likewise.

In reference to Mr. Francis being an option dealer, we know he is a member of a commission house, one of the most influential in the west, and we understand his firm buys and sells grain as dealers and on commission for any one who applies. But that the firm is a speculative one, in the general acceptance of the term, as being one which bets on the price of grain without intending to receive the grain if bought, or to deliver it if sold for future delivery, we are authoritatively advised that such is not the case. The house is a large receiver of grain shipped from the country, and one of the largest purchasers as well as about the largest carrier of cash grain in the St. Louis market. We are assured by reliable parties, who are in position to know and who are to our knowledge friendly to the producer, that the policy of the house with which Mr.
Francis has been connected has always been beneficial to the interest of the agriculturist.

A Good Appetite.

Is essential to good health; but at this season it is often lost, owing to the poverty or impurity of the blood, derangement of the digestive organs, and the weakening effect of the changing season. Hood's Sas-saparilla is a wonderful medicine for creating an appetite, toning the digestion, and giving strength to the whole system. Now is the time to take it. Be sure to get Hood's Sas-saparilla.
